NOTE FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

SUBJECT : Notes re Meeting with Princeton Whig-Clio Group,
Friday, 29 March 1974

1. All arrangements have been made for meeting with the Whig-Clio PROJECT UPDATE Group, on Friday, 29 March 1974, at 2:00 p.m., in the DD/M&S Conference Room, 7D34.

2. Altogether there will be ²⁶25 guests, with student leader Derek van Amerongen in charge. Ages range from 19 to 21 years; six are women.

3. This will be the fifth occasion, 1969-1974, in which a Whig-Clio PROJECT UPDATE Group has been briefed at CIA [redacted] d, in 1973, by HPF). These previous discussions have centered on the role of CIA and the intelligence community in US foreign policy making, although occasional questions from the students have touched on other matters. The sessions to date have been fairly good, and the atmosphere friendly.

4. The students, all US citizens, have been name-checked by Security. CIA is providing an escort and transportation for this present group from the EOB (where they will be spending the morning) to Hqs Bldg and back. The return bus is scheduled for 3:45 p.m., although that can be extended if we wish. Coffee and cookies will be on hand in the Conference Room, prior to the meeting.

5. I will see that the students are in place in the meeting room, and will introduce you. I will be prepared to fill in for you, should you be called away for part of the time.

Gentlemen:

Many thanks for your letter of February 15.

The best presentation date for Mr. Colby would be Friday afternoon, March 29, at 2:00 p.m. I hope this will be a convenient time for you.

Though we hope that it will not occur, it is always possible that Mr. Colby might be called away at the last minute by sudden White House, Congressional, or NSC needs. In their absence, he will as he says, be delighted to meet with his fellow Whig-Clisophic's. Additionally, I will be pleased to sit in once again with your group.

I would strongly urge you not to over-schedule your appointments on the afternoon of the 29th. You would be here from 2:00 to 3:15 or so and wouldn't be back into town (New State) until 3:45 or so. And, rushing out here to Langley, Virginia, for a very brief meeting would not prove worthwhile for either your group or Mr. Colby.

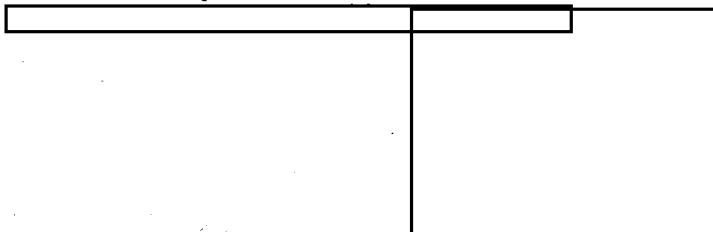

As with all such visiting groups, and as was the case with Whig-Clisophic last year, here are a few procedural items:

1. Would you please as soon as possible mail me a list which gives the names of all the members of the group, student or faculty, plus their birthdates. We must ask that all such visitors be U.S. citizens.
2. We will arrange to have a bus pick up your group at the Diplomatic Entrance of New State (on C Street) at 1:15 on March 29; this bus will also deliver your group back to New State at about 3:45.

Remarks: Angus, Attached are some background memos relating to last year's visit of the Princeton Whig-Clio group. Note that we furnished transportation for them. I'm not sure whether you've made that arrangement for this year but if you need to, the format is here and easy to follow. We've checked and the DCI conference room is available at 2:30 on 25 March. Since you've made arrangements for the group to clear through the receptionist, it seems to me the only thing that remains to be guaranteed is Mr. Colby's presence and I'm sure that's already taken care of. I'm sorry I can't be around to (over)

Dear Mr. Connolly,

This is in response to your letter of 23 February asking that I meet with members of your society during their Project Update meeting in Washington.

As a former member of Whig-Clio (1940), I would be delighted to meet with you. I assume that such a meeting would be private in character. Perhaps we could arrange a visit by your group here to our Langley Building.

Please make arrangements with my Assistant, Mr. Angus MacLean Thuermer. His telephone number is (703)

Dear Mr. Colby:

During the last week of March, PROJECT UPDATE will send twenty Princeton students to Washington for a series of seminars on current issues of national concern. Annually sponsored by Whig-Clis, this program has proven to be a rare opportunity for Society members to meet with policy makers in government.

Your participation in this program would be of particular value. Should you decide to take part in PROJECT UPDATE, we will make every effort to adapt our schedule to yours. The group will be in Washington from Monday through Thursday, March 24 to March 27. The seminar, which can last from thirty minutes to an hour, could be conducted at virtually any time and place that would be convenient for you.

I look forward to your reply, and thank you for your time and co-operation.

Sincerely,
Chris Connolly

Dear Mr. Colby:

During the last week of March, PROJECT UPDATE will send twenty Princeton students to Washington for a series of seminars on current issues of national concern. Annually sponsored by Whig-Clio, this program has proven to be a rare opportunity for Society members to meet with policy makers in government, business, journalism, and the military.

We have found that an undertaking like PROJECT UPDATE is an invaluable part of our education, for it provides the type of first-hand knowledge and insight that is often lacking in our academic environment. As the Director of the C.I.A., your participation in this program would particularly be of value and would lend to making our visit a more successful venture.

Should you decide to take part in PROJECT UPDATE, we will make every effort to adapt our schedule to yours. The group will be in Washington from Monday through Friday, March 25 to March 29. The seminar, which can last from thirty minutes to an hour, could be conducted at virtually any time and place that would be convenient for you.

We look forward to your reply, and thank you for your time and cooperation.
